

Hours of gaming pleasure – Speedlink presents the new Wireless LED Gaming Headset MANDAS

The MANDAS offers first-class surround sound in addition to many practical features

Heeslingen/Germany, December 01, 2021 – With the new wireless MANDAS LED gaming headset from Speedlink, every gaming session becomes an acoustic firework. It can be connected both wirelessly and via the 3.5mm jack plug.

Crystal clear sound in every situation

With its surround sound and versatility, the MANDAS provides hours of gaming pleasure. Compatible with PC, tablet or smartphone as well as with PS5®, PS4®, Nintendo Switch® and Xbox One®, the headset can be connected wirelessly or via a 3.5 mm jack plug, depending on the device.

Smartphones, tablets and Xbox One® controllers are connected via the audio cable. Wireless use via the USB receiver is particularly suitable for PCs, PS5®, PS4® and Nintendo Switch® consoles. In wireless use, the MANDAS has a range of up to ten metres. Due to the 900 mAh rechargeable battery, you can play for up to ten hours without interruption. For longer sessions, the headset can be connected to the device via the audio cable.

Highest comfort – no matter how long the session lasts

Every game and every song become an acoustic highlight with the 50 mm driver unit. Communication with friends or fellow gamers also runs smoothly with the flexible and precise microphone – you can be clearly understood even in the most hectic situations. To ensure the highest wearing comfort even during long periods of use, the headset has soft ear cups and a flexible headband. Furthermore, the MANDAS LED is a real eye-catcher with its illuminated ear cups.
