RAIT Bluetooth Gamepad - for Nintendo Switch/OLED/
PC/Android, rubber-black

The RAIT gamepad family is one of the classics from Speedlink. The RAIT Bluetooth® gamepad is the perfect companion for demanding gamers. Thanks to the wireless connection and the powerful lithium-ion battery, you can play anywhere. The built-in motion control sensor makes it possible to enjoy the whole variety of Nintendo Switch® games and brings a lot of movement into the game. You can also feel and experience critical situations first hand using realistic vibration effects. The gamepad is equipped with a rubberised surface so you always stay in control even in heated battles. The RAIT Bluetooth® gamepad can also be connected to the PC or used to play Android games. After the session, you can easily charge the pad using the supplied USB-C cable.
