Macro programmability meets ergonomic design: Speedlink's VADES Gaming Mouse scores big time, uniting a stunning shape with a petite price

Weertzen, 13 March 2019: With its VADES, the gaming accessories specialist Speedlink presents a low-priced entry-level mouse with a gaming-optimised shape and advanced programmability.

A programmable mouse can be the deciding factor between victory or defeat in all-night gaming skirmishes. Riding to the rescue comes the VADES – Speedlink's new entry-level mouse which tips the scales in the gamer's favour with a stunning shape at a petite price. Even right out of the box, the VADES is ready to spray holes at high speed in any opponent thanks to its rapid-fire button. It – just like the other six programmable buttons – is also a breeze to configure using the software, allowing macros, skills, spells or actions to be called up in a flash and timed perfectly with each other. "The VADES mouse marks the first time we've brought this offering to our entry-level class products. With its killer shape, programmable buttons and gaming-optimised sensor, in developing the VADES we've managed to cram in all the key functions of a pro-level gaming mouse into a product that has an RRP of under €20," explained Rainer Nawratil, Director of Product Management, PR & Marketing at Speedlink.

The illuminated gaming mouse fits the hand like a glove – and combined with its ergonomically positioned buttons, gamers can keep on gaming without their hand getting tired and with nothing standing in their way of deadly timing and ultimate victory.

Another highlight is the resolution indicator, which changes colour to reflect the dpi setting (four levels from 800dpi to 4,800dpi).
