

Crying out for gaming comfort?

The Speedlink REGGER Gaming Chair now comes in three new colour schemes

Weertzen, 24.01.2017 – The SPEEDLINK REGGER Gaming Chair is now available in three new colour schemes. Just like the first range of REGGER Gaming Chairs, the new models are also extremely ergonomic, designed around gamers' needs and are fully adjustable for the perfect fit thanks to their range of settings. The chair is available from Amazon for an RRP of €229.00 by the end of January.

Tried-and-tested features, greater choice: to kick off the new year, SPEEDLINK presents three new versions of the REGGER Gaming Chair. It supports gamers in all the right places for epic gaming sessions in maximum comfort. Gaming enthusiasts will now be spoilt for choice, with the chair now available in the colour schemes: red/black, yellow/black and blue/white.

The gaming-optimised desk chair rotates a full 360° for total freedom of movement, plus it's the perfect place to regenerate thanks to its adjustable backrest tilt which reclines all the way back to a virtually flat position. With its head-height backrest, height-adjustable lumbar support and adjustable back and neck area padding, the chair can be fine-tuned to provide the spine with the perfect level of support, preventing signs of fatigue especially during epic gaming sessions.
